Note from Fr. Bill: Our world today has many wise, faith filled, courageous and loving people whose actions and words inspire us. In addition to the wisdom you carry yourself and the wisdom of hundreds of other inspiring folks that you have interacted with this past week, the following three women might carry some inspiration for you in these quotes and some further reading of their work.

From Sr. Helen Prejean, C.S.J. who is a Roman Catholic nun, a member of the Congregation of St. Joseph based in New Orleans, who through her ministry in prisons has accompanied prisoners on death row and has given them a loving face and presence in their dying moments. Author of Dead Man Walking:

- "I saw the suffering and I let myself feel it... I saw the injustice and was compelled to do something about it. I changed from being a nun who only prayed for the suffering world to a woman with my sleeves rolled up, living my prayer."
- "I watch what I'm doing to see what I believe."
- "people are more than the worst thing they have ever done in their lives"
- "The important thing is that when you come to understand something you act on it, no matter how small that act is. Eventually it will take you where you need to go."
- "I want the last face you see in this world to be the face of love, so you look at me when they do this thing. I'll be the face of love for you." (to a death row prisoner before his execution).

From Sister of Mercy theologian and professor of spirituality, Sr. Janet Ruffing, R.S.M., Ph.D., who teaches graduate courses on Christian spirituality, mystics and mysticism, and meditation at Yale Divinity School.

- "If we are as busy as we pretend to be, then we are too busy to allow ourselves to be affected by the pain and suffering of our world. We are too busy to be addressed personally by the social, political or ecological disasters occurring in our relationships. We are too busy to listen to our own feelings or those of others. Our busyness insulates us from care and from compassion." Janet Ruffing

From CYNTHIA BOURGEAULT, PhD, who is an Episcopal priest, teacher, and retreat and conference leader. The author of several books, she lectures and gives workshops throughout North America and the world. Excerpts from her book The Wisdom Jesus: Transforming Heart and Mind.

- "As we enter the path of transformation, the most valuable thing we have working in our favor is our yearning."
- "Philippians 2:5: "Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus." The words call us up short as to what we are actually supposed to be doing on this path: not just admiring Jesus, but acquiring his consciousness."

Cynthia Bourgeault

- "Somewhere in those depths of silence I came upon my first experiences of God as a loving presence that was always near, and prayer as a simple trust in that presence." The Wisdom Jesus: Transforming Heart and Mind
- "One can only imagine how greatly the political and religious culture wars of our era could be eased by this simple courtesy of the Law of Three: (1) the enemy is never the problem but the opportunity; (2) the problem will never be solved through eliminating or silencing the opposition but only through creating a new field of possibility large enough to hold the tension of the opposites and launch them in a new direction. Imagine what a different world it would be if these two simple precepts were internalized and enacted." Centering Prayer and Inner Awakening The Holy Trinity and the Law of Three: Discovering the Radical truth at the Heart of Christianity.
